LAND SALE.

GEORGIA—Bulloch County.
The eight children of Mrs. M. E. Fredonia Still, present owner of the property described below, all being of legal age, having appointed me their agent and attorney, to sub-divide and sell the said lands, I will sell at public outcry to the highest bidder, before the court house door in Statesboro, Ga., on the first Tuesday in November, 1919, the following described four tracts of land, all lying in the 1523rd district, Bulloch county, Ga., comprising what is known as the Still place, near Corinth church, viz:
Tract No. 1, containing 50 1/2 acres, more or less, bounded north by the Corinth public road, east by road running southward towards Brooklet, south by lands of J. B. Lanier, and west by lands of J. B. Lanier and W. D. F. Joyner (20 acres in cultivation; tenant house, good barn, etc.).
Tract No. 2, containing 16 1/2 acres, more or less, bounded north by the Corinth road, bounded north by lands of G. W. Mann, east by Corinth church lot, south by the Corinth public road, and northwest by lands of A. E. Joyner (12 acres in cultivation; good dwelling house).
Tract No. 3, containing 34 1/2 acres, more or less, bounded north by the Corinth public road, east by lands of J. B. Lanier, south by tract No. 4, the Still land, and west by road running southward towards Brooklet (all in cultivation).
Tract No. 4, containing 46 acres, more or less, bounded north by tract No. 1 and 3 of the Still lands, east by lands of J. B. Lanier, south by lands of A. W. Belcher, C. B. Waters and J. B. Lanier, and west by lands of J. B. Lanier (42 acres in cultivation).
Terms of sale: 20 per cent cash on day of sale, 20 per cent on January 1, 1920; 30 per cent on January 1, 1921, and 30 per cent on January 1, 1922; deferred payments to bear 8 1/2 per cent interest from date of sale, and secured by security deed on property purchased. Possession January 1, 1920.
Surveyed and sub-divided by J. E. Bushing, county surveyor. Each person will be given a plat. Property located in one of the best communities in the county, near Brooklet, and in easy reach of Statesboro; nearly all in cultivation, and the easy terms make it especially inviting as an investment. See me for further particulars. HINTON BOOTH. (16oct31e)

PRES. BARREY ISSUES AN APPEAL TO FARMERS

URGES COTTON GROWERS TO ORGANIZE IN EVERY COUNTY FOR THEIR PROTECTION.

Charles S. Barrett, national president of the Farmers' Union, has issued the following call to the farmers of the United States to organize.
To the Farmers of the United States: We are facing in our country the most serious crisis since the Civil War. The forces of capital and of organized labor after many years of constant struggle and temporary agreement seemed to have found issues in a much sharper way than ever before.
The President has called a conference of these forces, the purpose of which is to see if better relations can be established in our industrial life. There is today no man alive wise enough to foresee what will be the result of that conference. The possibilities for good or evil are beyond calculation, and the results will affect every human being in this broad land.
From the foundation of our country up to the present, you have been the real conserving force. Staying at home as you do, leading a rather isolated life, as you do, you have naturally developed strong individuality and self-reliance, which makes it hard for you to co-operate with your fellow-farmers. The conditions which have arisen and which are not of your making, are such that it may be necessary for you to move in a new direction. In every emergency which our country has ever had to face, you have responded. It was contended that the only way to win the independence. In every war from that day to this you have shed your blood freely. In every crisis, you have met, without stint, every call that has been made upon you. In this last great war when you were told that food must win the war, notwithstanding the shortage of help; notwithstanding the hundreds of thousands of your sons who had gone to the front, you put on high pressure and turned loose such an immense supply of all necessary foodstuffs as enabled our people not only to feed themselves, but to feed Europe, and this, more than any other one thing, led to the triumph of our cause.
You had a right to expect that you would be allowed to sit down in peace, to till your fields, to look after your flocks and herds, and to enjoy such leisure as you labors would permit, without having to face, immediately, another great crisis. Despite your efforts to do your part, the conditions referred to have brought upon the country the most dangerous crisis it has ever known. This means that in addition to tilling your fields and attending to your own affairs you must take up questions of government and social policies more actively and more unselfishly than you have ever done before.
You represent the largest single element in our population; and you represent the largest invested capital of any industry, and therefore, which injures the country injures the farmer and a larger invested capital than can be possible to any other class.
It becomes, therefore, necessary for you to act, not only as a matter of self-protection, but as a matter of saving the whole United States from the evil results which will follow a failure of the conference which has been called.
The purpose of this address is to call your attention to the facts as they are, and to ask that you will organize more thoroughly, more unanimously and more promptly than you have ever before done or thought of doing, in order that you may be in a position by reason of your numbers and the political power in these numbers to do those things which may become necessary to restore a condition of health to the country which you have so faithfully served, and which it may be truthfully said is now in danger.
Let us urge you, therefore, to move at once. Forget all your past experiences in this direction. The strong man does not stop because of one failure, or two failures, or three failures, and the urgency of the situation is such that you cannot afford to let your past experiences or past prejudices enter you one moment in getting in elbow touch with your fellows in order that your children and your children's children may be preserved from calamity.

Getting Children Ready for School.

Common colds are infectious and it is wrong to send a snuffling, sneezing coughing child to school to spread disease germs among other little ones. Foley's Honey and Tar relieves coughs and colds, loosens phlegm and mucus, and coats raw, irritated membranes with a healing, soothing medicine. Contains no opiates.—Bulloch Drug Co.

YOU CAN'T HELP ADMIRING THE FRANCIS BACON PIANO.

Before you come to buy, you unconsciously make a mental picture of the piano you would like to own.

The Francis Bacon will fill that picture of the mind. It is the kind of piano you would feel proud to have; to show your friends.

One feels the pride of ownership in a FRANCIS BACON not alone because of its old and distinguished name, but in the matchless beauty of its rich tone, exquisite finish of its cabinet work and wonderful durability.

SMOKING GRUB WORMS AS TOBACCO SUBSTITUTE

IF PROPERLY KILLED AND DRIED WILL MAKE VERY SATISFACTORY SMOKE.

While "necessity is the mother of invention," according to the common saying, sometimes it is true that important discoveries are made by accident. That grub worms may be used as a substitute for smoking tobacco, is one of these accidental discoveries.

The discovery was made by a Brooklet citizen, a well known Confederate veteran, several years ago, but news of it has just reached this office through one of the witnesses. The story is to the effect that three gentlemen were gathered in the Ogeechee river, and while gathering worms for bait, the Brooklet veteran found a grubworm. He reasoned that it would make good catfish bait, and so dropped into his coat pocket. It so happened that this was the same pocket he carried his smoking tobacco in. The worm burrowed his way beneath the tobacco and fell asleep for the day, while the veteran continued to smoke off the top of the pile. When the day was over and the party had gathered at the fireside at the home of Rev. A. M. Johnson, the veteran fell to recounting the experience of the day, and as he recounted he smoked vigorously. Meantime the tobacco supply grew low.

Suddenly there was a commotion in the veteran's pipe, and the fire went out. He lit up again, and began to draw vigorously. And again there was a commotion and fragments of tobacco flew into the air. This was something unusual for the pipe, but the veteran tried it once more, with like results. He then proceeded to investigate. Beneath the tobacco, snuggled warmly in the bottom of the pipe, reposed the grubworm, vigorous and irate. The smoke was abruptly ended.

While he has found the worm a very palatable smoke with a velvet finish equal to many of the well-advertised brands, the Brooklet veteran recommends that those who try this substitute should carry the worm through a curing plant and see that he is well drier before reposing too much faith in his smoking qualities. Because, there is one thing sure: A live worm will not stand any foolishness in the bottom of a pipe.

NOTICE.

Am instructed by the Finance Committee to notify in this manner all taxpayers on city property that there will be no extension of time this year. The books will close on November 15 and all taxes should be paid immediately against those not having paid.

JUDGE ROUNTREE OFFERS FOR ORDINARY'S OFFICE

The announcement of Judge J. W. Rountree for the office of ordinary will be noted in this issue. Judge Rountree is mayor of Statesboro and is now serving his second term in that office. He has been a resident of Bulloch county from boyhood, coming here from Emanuel county. He has held the office of justice of the peace for the twentieth district for more than a quarter of a century without interruption, and has always been prominent in county and municipal affairs. He has never held county office, but was a candidate for clerk of the superior court ten or twelve years ago.

Judge Rountree's entry in the race for ordinary starts the ball rolling in what promises to be an interesting campaign. There is believed to be practical certainty that Judge Moore will be a candidate for re-election and his popularity is well proven. There have been rumors, however, of other entries in the race, both J. E. McCroan and B. R. Olliv have been mentioned in this connection. An apparent movement to induce Tax Collector Hodges to turn his attention in that direction failed early in the move, he having definitely announced his intention to seek re-election to the office he now holds.

NOTICE.

I believe that it is rather early to make formal announcement as to my candidacy for county office, but at the suggestion of quite a number of my friends, I wish to advise that I will make a formal entry into the race for tax receiver at the proper time.
Right here I wish to thank the public for past favors, and to ask that you keep me in mind for the next time.

STATE OF GEORGIA, BULLOCK COUNTY.

In the Superior Court of said County.

To whom it may concern:
Howell Come, as administrator of the estate of W. T. Smith, having presented his petition to me in which he alleges that the said estate is the owner of certificate No. 187 for five shares of the capital stock of Bank of Statesboro, issued to W. T. Smith, late of said county, deceased, on November 3, 1909, of which the following is a copy:

Number 187. 5 Shares, BANK OF STATESBORO Statesboro, Georgia.
This certifies that W. T. Smith is the owner of five shares of the capital stock of Bank of Statesboro, fully paid and non-assessable. Transferable only on the books of the corporation in person or by attorney on surrender of this certificate.

In witness whereof, the duly authorized officers of this corporation have hereunto subscribed their names and caused the corporate seal to be affixed at Statesboro, Georgia, this 3rd day of November A. D. 1909.
(Signed) J. L. COLEMAN, President.
(Signed) S. C. GROOVER, Cashier.

He also alleges that the same has been lost and destroyed and desires a copy established. You are, therefore, called upon to show cause before me if any you have, on the 27th day of October, 1919, at 12 o'clock M., at the court house of Bulloch County, Georgia, why said copy should not be established in lieu of the lost original.

This the 22nd day of August, 1919.

ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL.

The nation-wide movement to erect a memorial to the late Theodore Roosevelt, for which a fund of $5,000,000 is asked, is of especial interest to Bulloch county.

Roosevelt's grandfather, Archibald Bulloch, once governor of the state, is the man for whom Bulloch county was named. This of itself is a reason why there should exist a peculiar interest in the matter. Besides this, the assurance is given that special notice will be given to Bulloch county in the final plans for the erection of the memorial at Roswell, where is located the old Bulloch home.

Above and higher than all these incentives, however, the people of every section of the state are interested in the movement because of the proposition that the memorial to be established in the state shall embrace an educational institution for boys, to cost a half million dollars or more, and to be a perpetual monument to the life of the illustrious Roosevelt.

Georgia needs more schools. Not a college in the state now has sufficient room for the young men and women demanding admission to their doors. Never before has there been such a clamor for college facilities as at the present. Boys and girls in every community have been turned away from the doors of colleges already overcrowded. The Roosevelt memorial will help in this crisis. It is a worthy undertaking, and Bulloch county people will not feel that they are throwing their money to the four winds in contributing to the same.

AN EARLY PRIMARY.

Emanuel county has already started her politics in earnest, and has set the date for her primary January 5th. Not only that, she has a horde of candidates already in the running, and possibly other entries to come. It is well that the people are to be rid of the pestiferous though harmless candidate as early as possible.

Bulloch county will probably soon be stirred by a cry for an early primary, judging from the number of entries already in the field for county offices. She will probably yield to the plea of the candidates to have the agony over.

But we wonder why she should? Of late years the dates for the primaries have grown gradually earlier each year, only to be followed by an earlier starting up of the campaign the next time. The demand to have it over with, has only resulted in the campaign being thrust upon the people sooner, until at the present rate advancement it may well be imagined that the primaries will some time grow to be a year earlier in advance of the election, since earlier primaries inevitably result in earlier campaigns.

Perfectly unprejudiced on any way or the other on the question of an early primary, we are led to wonder why the need of a primary at all of the years past every voter in the county has been at liberty to participate in the primary, and then has felt himself free to bolt if his candidate was not elected. Some few years ago we remember, for instance, a defeated candidate for sheriff received a majority over the regular nominee, one of the districts of the county in the regular election. He was not a candidate, but his friends, dissatisfied with his defeat, voted for him in violation of their moral obligation implied by their participation in the primary.

In the last election there were men in Bulloch county who called themselves democrats and participated in the democratic primary who supported the republican candidate for the United States Senate in violation of their implied pledge.

Yes, there is going to be a primary and it will be called democratic, and will probably be held early. Men who are not entitled to call themselves democrats, because they are not, will vote in it, and will later vote against the democratic nominee, thereby not satisfied with the outcome of the primary. We wonder, though, why we should continue to hold primaries for the selection of party nominees,

CUT OUT COTTON AND BECOME RICH

While the main body of the Senate has been trying to adjust the country, and itself, to the new human ideals along the lines of constitutional government for the world—and having a mighty hard time of it—a lesser group of Senators has been hobnobbing with the bourgeoisie about Pittsburgh in an attempt to determine the true causes of the steel strike in order to make a report thereon to the august Senate.

There are 531 members of the two houses of Congress, and every member of one of them has some kind of an idea as to how the new human ideals should be dovetailed into the cog wheels of life.

There are likewise the leaders of capital and labor, and the representatives of the public, scrambled in an industrial conference at Washington, and even though they are pretty well removed from the atmosphere of Pittsburgh, they have at least fifty-seven varieties of versions about the industrial unrest—and the industrial and capitalist chiefs are like the students of the law, who are all right all with blueprints and drawings that show conclusively just how the edifice for new humanity is to be constructed. Unfortunately, however, the assembled proposals of these most illustrious thinkers resemble a conglomeration of the intellectual chaos that would be the result of that miscellaneous mixer we know as General Jass.

Why doesn't some one analyze the seven ages of man again? Can we afford to forget the obedient infant that is mewling and obeying the nurse; the whining school boy recognizing the authority of the teacher; the lover subsiding at the feet of marking attention and doing kitchen police at the command of his officers; the justice, obeying the authorities and following their decrees; the aged man, in the autumn-time of life enjoying the slippers of his grandchildren and mere oblivion, during which period son, daughters and grandchildren boss the old man about? Always, it seems, man received and obeyed orders. But now, in the whole big affair managed by General Jass, we have words of wisdom concerning the new human ideals, and the rights of man—the laboring man in particular, whose ancestors have been bossed since the days of Adam, who expects to be satisfied himself everywhere except as he comes to work in the establishments controlled by capital. Capital shall not hold his destiny in charge, he declares, and the new isms of new ideals teach that capital is nothing more than an incubus; and therefore it should be removed from the vision of the new ideal.

In fact, the bright minds of Congress, the industrial conference, and the scattered domes of wise men and women throughout America are trying to put patches on the leaky tubes and the punctured tires of the whole population, and since labor and capital are the biggest factors in the compilation, all the specialists have turned attention in that direction in particular.

As a simple matter of fact, whole new tires are needed for the industrial omnibuses—just as in war-time. For America, her ideals and her interests, are the biggest factors in the protection of the rights of humanity all right, if only labor and capital can be brought back to the normal trend of their ways, fully determined that the battles of peace can be won as splendidly as were those of war.

Those who live in Washington know that it is a wonderful place, but it is doubtful if the remedy for industrial conditions will be found there, since the kickers and the calamity howlers exist in every community. And what they need is less management from the seat of government, and more of the kindly dose of Dr. Morale, whose favorite prescription reads: "Get busy and produce something besides a growl."

Don't neglect a constant backache, sleep, darning, and other primary duties. The danger of darning or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's, the pills which have your friends and neighbors. A Statesboro case.

J. S. West, station agent Central of Ga. Station, 23 Zetterower Ave., Statesboro, says: "Some few years ago I had a bad attack of kidney complaint. My kidneys became very weak and irregular in action and my back hurt all the time. There would be sharp pains right over my kidneys. Some time I would stoop over and could hardly straighten again. Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family with such good results I began taking them. One box entirely rid me of this trouble and I occasionally take them now and they keep me feeling fine."

CUT OUT COTTON AND BECOME RICH

While the main body of the Senate has been trying to adjust the country, and itself, to the new human ideals along the lines of constitutional government for the world—and having a mighty hard time of it—a lesser group of Senators has been hobnobbing with the bourgeoisie about Pittsburgh in an attempt to determine the true causes of the steel strike in order to make a report thereon to the august Senate.

There are 531 members of the two houses of Congress, and every member of one of them has some kind of an idea as to how the new human ideals should be dovetailed into the cog wheels of life.

There are likewise the leaders of capital and labor, and the representatives of the public, scrambled in an industrial conference at Washington, and even though they are pretty well removed from the atmosphere of Pittsburgh, they have at least fifty-seven varieties of versions about the industrial unrest—and the industrial and capitalist chiefs are like the students of the law, who are all right all with blueprints and drawings that show conclusively just how the edifice for new humanity is to be constructed. Unfortunately, however, the assembled proposals of these most illustrious thinkers resemble a conglomeration of the intellectual chaos that would be the result of that miscellaneous mixer we know as General Jass.

Why doesn't some one analyze the seven ages of man again? Can we afford to forget the obedient infant that is mewling and obeying the nurse; the whining school boy recognizing the authority of the teacher; the lover subsiding at the feet of marking attention and doing kitchen police at the command of his officers; the justice, obeying the authorities and following their decrees; the aged man, in the autumn-time of life enjoying the slippers of his grandchildren and mere oblivion, during which period son, daughters and grandchildren boss the old man about? Always, it seems, man received and obeyed orders. But now, in the whole big affair managed by General Jass, we have words of wisdom concerning the new human ideals, and the rights of man—the laboring man in particular, whose ancestors have been bossed since the days of Adam, who expects to be satisfied himself everywhere except as he comes to work in the establishments controlled by capital. Capital shall not hold his destiny in charge, he declares, and the new isms of new ideals teach that capital is nothing more than an incubus; and therefore it should be removed from the vision of the new ideal.

In fact, the bright minds of Congress, the industrial conference, and the scattered domes of wise men and women throughout America are trying to put patches on the leaky tubes and the punctured tires of the whole population, and since labor and capital are the biggest factors in the compilation, all the specialists have turned attention in that direction in particular.

As a simple matter of fact, whole new tires are needed for the industrial omnibuses—just as in war-time. For America, her ideals and her interests, are the biggest factors in the protection of the rights of humanity all right, if only labor and capital can be brought back to the normal trend of their ways, fully determined that the battles of peace can be won as splendidly as were those of war.

Those who live in Washington know that it is a wonderful place, but it is doubtful if the remedy for industrial conditions will be found there, since the kickers and the calamity howlers exist in every community. And what they need is less management from the seat of government, and more of the kindly dose of Dr. Morale, whose favorite prescription reads: "Get busy and produce something besides a growl."

FELDER MAKES HIT BEFORE LEGAL BODY

IS ELECTED AN HONORARY LIFE MEMBER OF MISSOURI BAR ASSOCIATION AFTER SPEECH.

Atlanta, Oct. 14.—Kansas City, Mo., has capitulated to a Georgia man. That is to say, Thos. B. Felder, formerly of Atlanta, and well known throughout Georgia, was the "man of the hour" in that city several days ago. Mr. Felder spoke on "The Majesty of the Law" at the annual convention of the Missouri Bar Association. Kansas City newspapers, which have just been received in Atlanta, say that it was the most eloquent and forceful speech that has ever been heard in that city; that his defense of our system of government as it was created and as it formerly existed, should appeal to every loyal American.

According to the reports, Mr. Felder was warmly congratulated by the judges and lawyers present, many of whom it was stated said the speech has never been excelled by any orator in that city. Between five hundred and six hundred judges, state and federal, and lawyers were present, and on three or four different occasions during the delivery of Mr. Felder's speech, which required about an hour and fifteen minutes, the convention rose en masse and cheered to the echo. The cheering lasted several minutes.

At the conclusion of Mr. Felder's address, he was unanimously elected an honorary life member of the Missouri Bar Association, he being the only speaker to whom this honor was accorded, although there were distinguished speakers from all parts of the country on the program. Mr. Felder has won a national reputation in his profession since going to New York City, having been retained in cases of tremendous importance.

BOLL WEEVIL EXPERT TO SPEAK IN AUGUSTA

STUDY OF THE WEEVIL TO BE A FEATURE OF SOUTHERN EXPOSITION FAIR.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 14, 1919. Mr. H. S. Cohen, General Manager, Augusta, Ga., Dear Sir:

All of the fairs here in the south, I can say are better and carry more interest than ever before. The boll weevil is compelling this added interest. To my mind the most outstanding and helpful feature of your fair here in Augusta, is the two lectures on weevil poisoning by Dr. B. R. Road, of Tallahassee, La. I have not seen this feature as attached to any other fair than your own.

Prof. Road has for seven years past been the government agent in boll weevil poisoning and has made thousands and thousands of tests, and all of the literature in regard to poisoning has come from him. He is the central and almost sole authority in this country on boll weevil poisoning; and really for any man in the boll weevil territory in Georgia, and South Carolina not to hear this lecture is to neglect the major thing in his farm's agriculture.

You made a star move when you succeeded in getting Dr. Road to come to the very top. As an attraction, he is at home here.

Yours very truly,

N. L. WILLET.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS START RIOT TRYING TO STOP GERMAN OPERA.

New York, Oct. 20.—Despite decision by Mayor Hyland that German opera should not be given in New York until the peace treaty was signed, "Die Meistersinger" was presented in German at the Lexington Theatre tonight, while thousands of soldiers, sailors, marines and civilians fought with the police in an attempt to reach the theatre and stop the production.

Several shots were fired as the former service men time and again charged the police line or laid down a barrage of bricks, stones and other missiles in an attempt to force their way through.

Soon after the performance started a crowd of about 300 service men were driven away from the vicinity of the theatre, but after reaching the Times Square were started back, only to be met by a squad of mounted police which scattered them. During the remainder of the performance the crowd fought valiantly to reach the theatre, but failed. Reports during the early evening as to whether the performance would be presented.

What is Wise Spending

Saving may have seemed to you the opposite of spending, and so it is—of foolish spending.

But really wise spending goes hand-in-hand with intelligent saving. Saving in itself—as the miser understands it—the mere hoarding of money for money's sake—is of no especial advantage to anyone.

On the other hand, when people save intelligently, what they really do is to save for a chance to spend for something more worth while later. In final analysis, everything is spent but the saver thinks before he spends and so spends wisely. He gets more for his money and so a bigger return for his work. He has more money left for thoughtful spending in the future.

Now, what is really more worth while later? It may be that, by accumulating hitherto foolishly spent dimes and quarters, which give no real satisfaction, you will be able to buy later a home or have a wife or provide for old age or for education, or a start in life for your children.

All of these and many other things are "worth mores" to the individual.

War Savings Stamps help you to convert foolish money into future wise spending power.

Speculators would say we're foolish---

WE don't think so. Just because the market has advanced since we purchased our Fall stocks for you is no reason why we should advance the prices. We're going to give you the advantage of that advance.

If a store takes that attitude towards its customers and buys for your benefit, like a good purchasing agent, we don't believe a business has to bother much about an extra $5 or $10 profit—They'll make that up in the good will they create.
